

Lunch options

Unfortunately, only one sandwich shop will be open on campus:
The Erbert and Gerbert's sandwich shop in the Student Union.

The second nearest group of restaurants is almost walking distance (13 minutes, just watch out for the traffic!). I have good experience with Hanaya Gardens and Passage to India. (The latter not shown, but next door to Topper's Pizza.)

If you are willing to drive a few minutes, great many restaurants are both sides of WT Harris Blvd, if you turn West at the crossing with University City Blvd. I would particularly recommend Le Kebab Grill and the Thai House. Not shown on the map (in the lower right corner), next to Total Wine, there is Pho Real Vietnamese cuisine:

There are plenty of restaurants near Drury Inn. We will have dinner at Godavari's South Indian restaurant:
